CHAD HUNT/RICHFIELD REAPER

AnnaVee Poulson, left, assists Richfield resident Wayne Johnson as he enters a jar of tomato juice in the Sevier County Fair Monday evening. The event, hosted at the fairgrounds in Richfield, is set to continue through Saturday, Aug. 13.

Dancing at RHS

The first dance of the 2011-12 school year is scheduled to take place at Richfield High School this week.

Sponsored by the RHS parent teacher student association, the event is slated to run after the annual Blue and White football game — from 9 to 11:30 p.m., Friday, Aug. 12.

Hosted in gymnasium two, paid admission will au-tomatically register students for PTSA membership for the school year, according to Janet Bird, one of the event's organizers.

Cost is $5 per person, and all area high school age students are welcome and invited to attend, Bird said.

RHS is located at 510 West 100 South in Richfield.

COURTESY

Matt Sorenson displays an award he was given by the Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve organization July 20. Sorenson was recognized for helping members of the Utah National Guard fulfill their military obligations.

ESGR recognizes employer

A soldier from Fillmore nominated his Richfield boss for an Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve award.

The awards are given to employers who are nominated for going the extra mile when holding a military member's job while deployed.

Pfc. Maverick Ervine nominated Home Depot's Matt Sorenson for the award.

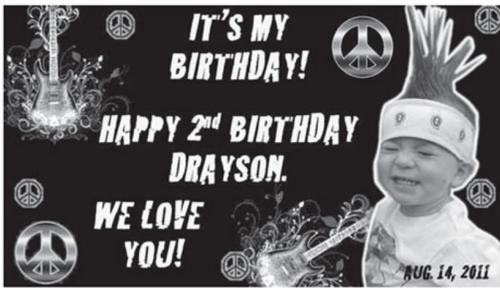

"Matt was more than willing to work with us Guard guys in the store," Ervine said. "He was very supportive of our military career and went out of his way to make sure we had everything we needed and adequate time off to spend with our families before deployment."

Ervine serves with the 2nd Battalion 222nd Field Artillery of the Utah Army National Guard.

"It's so important for employers to support these guys," said Stan Poulson, ESGR representative.

For more information, or to nominate an employer, contact Poulson at (435) 896-4897.
