

Jordan Valley earns primary stroke certification

Jordan Valley Medical Center in West Jordan has been certified as a "Primary Stroke Center" after demonstrating adherence to national standards for care and treatment of stroke patients.

A key component of the hospital's stroke treatment capabilities is its 24-hour-a-day "TeleStroke" partnership with University Hospital in Salt Lake City. In the event neurologists on the hospital's medical staffs are not available, Jordan Valley will communicate via a dedicated linked to University Hospital neurologists who will be able to assess, monitor and converse with patients electronically.

"This latest certification as a Primary Stroke Center is another step in our overall stroke treatment program, which includes specialized stroke treatment training for ER physicians, nurses and our emergency medical services partners, along with patient rehabilitation services and a stroke support group for continued healing," said Bryanie Swilley, CEO of Jordan Valley Medical Center and Pioneer Valley Hospital in West Valley, which also received the certification. "It's also another indication of Jordan Valley Medical Center's ongoing commitment to being comprehensive medical centers offering a full range of services for illness and injury."

The certification was issued by DNV Healthcare Inc., and it is recognized by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, DNV's Primary Stroke Center Certification program incorporates elements from its National Integrated Accreditation for Healthcare Organizations (NIAHO) hospital accreditation standards as well as requirements from the guidelines of the Brain Attack Coalition and recommendations of the American Stroke Association. DNV certification assessment activities included observations, interviews and document review.

Jordan Valley Medical Center is a 183-bed, state-of-the-art hospital equipped with the most advanced medical technology and offers comprehensive health care services, including emergency care, heart care, orthopedic care, advanced surgical procedures, diagnostic imaging, maternity care, sports medicine, and help for a broad range of medical conditions. It has a professional staff of over 370.

West Jordan businesses recognized for support of National Guard

The Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve, a Department of Defense agency, announced 33 Utah Guard and Reserve members nominated their employers for the 2012 Secretary of Defense Employer Support Freedom Award. Two of those businesses, Old Navy and the Dannon Company, are located in West Jordan.

The agency received 3,236 nominations nationwide. The Freedom Award is the Department of Defense's highest recognition for employers supporting members of the Guard and Reserve. Up to 15 recipients will be announced this summer and honored in Washington, D.C., on Sept. 20 at the 17th annual Freedom Award Ceremony.

Guard and Reserve members, or family members acting on their behalf, nominated their civilian employers for the Freedom Award during the 12-week nomination season. Guard and Reserve members, who stand ready to serve whenever our Nation needs them, often put their civilian lives on hold when they answer the call to duty. Supportive employers provide a tremendous amount of stability and peace of mind to these Citizen Warriors and their families, enabling them to continue their dedicated service to our country.

"Guardsmen and Reservists continue to receive outstanding support from their employers," said ESGR National Chair James G. Rebbholz. "America's employers have not wavered in their commitment to these Citizen Warriors."

Almost one-half of the U.S. military is comprised of the Guard and Reserve, and while most employers proudly support their military employees, Freedom Award recipients go above and beyond what is required by law. Last year's recipients were nominated for superior acts of support including driving a deployed employee's children to school, replacing a military employee's broken family refrigerator while he was serving abroad, and working overtime to cover a service member's shifts so he could take part in military training.
